

AN ARCHITECT'S CONCEPTION of the new $500,000 building to be constructed by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormon) is shown above. Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new building will take place Saturday, Oct. 12, at noon. It will be located on Kent Ave. in Torrance, south of Sepulveda and west of Hawthorne Blvs.

SOLOIST LOIS SHELTON is one of the voices to be heard over KAPP-FM from the Del Amo Southern Baptist Church which now broadcasts each Sunday evening service. The service commences at 7 p.m. in the church as previously, with the radio service beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Ground Breaking Set for Saturday

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new $500,000 building to be constructed by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormon) will be held Saturday Oct. 12 at 12 noon.

The 26,000 square foot structure will be built on Kent Ave. in Torrance, south of Sepulveda and west of Hawthorne Blvs.

The edifice will house the Palos Verdes and Redondo Wards, as well as serve the entire Torrance Stake of over 5,000 members for joint meetings.

This includes Wilmington, Lomita, San Pedro, Torrance, Waverly, Rolling Hills, and Rolling Hills Estates.

Cultural Hall

In addition to the chapel, there will be a cultural hall, class rooms, offices for the two Bishoprics and Stake Presidency.

From the Pulpit . . .

Even the heathen, without the full revelation of the word of God, and the knowledge of Jesus Christ, God's Son, know in their hearts that God is real, living, and one to whom they must account for their daily deeds.

God has planted this knowledge in the heart of creation, when He created man in His own image.

The heathen seek to put God in material form and worship this model of God—showing that they recognize Him as a person and a personality.

They are more wise than many so-called wise men of today's world.

Only the fool hath said in his heart: "There is no God."

Bible As A Guide

The 63 contributors to a new book "Bible Words That Guide Me" have donated all royalties to the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

"The generosity of these contributors to the National Conference is particularly appropriate," Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, Conference President said, pointing out that they are of different faiths who are acknowledged leaders in many walks of life.

Published by Grosset & Dunlap, "Bible Words That Guide Me" is a compilation of statements about what the Bible has meant to each of the threescore contributors.

PASTORS AND ACTORS

They include clergymen, prelates, statesmen, teachers, actors, newsmen, businessmen, educators, artists and authors.

The book is edited by Hubert Elliott who began his work more than a year ago.

Seeking out well-known personalities, Elliott asked each to select a Bible passage of special interest and to tell what part the Bible has played in his life.

Inasmuch as he was a stranger, asking a very personal question, there was no way of knowing what reaction he would get. The results were "overwhelming."

Bible Guide for Sunday

The obliteration of evil in the redemptive and healing work of Christ will be emphasized at all Christian Science churches next Sunday.

Scriptural readings include this verse from Ephesians (5:8): "For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light."

A related passage from the Christian Science textbook will be read: "Let unselfishness, goodness, mercy, justice, health, holiness, love—the kingdom of heaven—reign within us, and sin, disease, and death will diminish until they finally disappear." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 248).

The Bible lesson is entitled: "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?"

Story for Sunday

By RED LOCKWOOD

Once upon a time a young man journeyed to the city in which dwelt the oldest man in the province to seek him out at his home.

"Old man, they teach me many things," said the young man. "They teach me to work metal and to form things of wood. They teach me to add and to cipher. But they teach me not how to live."

"Oh," said the old man, "and is that why you have come to me? To seek the wisdom of how to live? of Life?"

"Yes, old man," said the young one. "That is what I seek."

"It is a pity that you have come so far," sighed he who was full of so many, many years, "for I have not learned that secret myself and I wonder if I ever shall."

THE OLD MAN ROSE

His head dropped, chin upon chest. Silent for a moment, the old one raised his eyes to look intently upon those of the young man. "You see, each day I learn something new, something that I never knew before."

The old man rose and placed his hands upon the shoulders of the young man. "And you," he said kindly, "will learn of many things that could never be known to me."

The young man sat, his head dropped, chin upon chest. Silent for a moment, the young one raised his eyes to look intently upon those of the old man. "And my son . . . ?"

"Yes, he will know things that never could be known to you," said the old man. "Knowledge is only a spur to know more about the hystery of life that man can never solve."

CYO Week Announced

National CYO Week will be observed in the Los Angeles Archdiocese Oct. 27 through Nov. 3, it has been announced by the Rev. John P. Languille, Catholic Youth Organization director.

The annual observance spotlights the efforts of Catholic young people and adult leaders who are engaged in a program of spiritual and social activities, Father Languille said.

Its theme this year will be "The Young Catholic in the Lay Apostolate."

Role of Youth

Fr. Languille stated that "the role of our youth in the lay apostolate is a real and special one. They are in a position, by their example, to influence society in order to restore it to its Christian ideals and to act as a link between the Church and civil society."

Opening day will be the Feast of Christ the King, which has been designated as National Communion Sunday for youth. CYO groups in Los Angeles, Orange and Ventura Counties will join with eight million Catholic youth throughout the nation in attending special Masses and receiving Holy Communion on that day, Fr. Languille said.

Unitarians Name School Director

The Pacific Unitarian Church has named Mrs. Michael E. Hiehle to be director of religious education for the congregation.

A graduate of Vassar College, Mrs. Hiehle came to this area from Westwood and to California from the east.

Mrs. Hiehle has had 15 years of experience in the field of religious education. As religious education director, her philosophy expresses itself in the church school program.

"Our work with children must be experience centered in order to have real meaning," she said. "Only as a young child becomes aware of his value as an individual is he able to think and wonder about relationships to others and to the natural world about him."

Studies at School

At the school, older children study the Judeo-Christian heritage, values and
